

Biography

Amanda Chevalier is the majority owner of CFI New Jersey, a Knoll contract furniture franchise. She received her BS from Cornell University in 1999.

Company information

CFI-NJ was formed in 2004 as the only minority- and woman-owned Knoll dealership on the East Coast, certified by EMSDC and WBENC.

Over the course of our years in business, we have provided furniture for some of the smallest and some of the largest projects in the region. We have national accounts with projects from coast to coast. A key to our success is our ability to work with many stakeholders in a project, as part of an integrated team: client, architect, designer, general contractor, and other trades.
